MISSOURI ADDICTION COUNSELORS' ASSOCIATION

October 2011

President's Corner By Laverne Blackorby, President

We are rapidly coming to end of another very successful year at MACA. Since our April conference of this year, we have increased membership by 24 members, 17 professional, 3 associate, 1 retired, 2 student, and 1 agency member. And from the conference evaluation sheets, it appears the conference keeps on getting better. I know from the conversations I had with many of you this spring, that as a whole you were really pleased with the conferences. I wish to thank those who presented information as well as to those who have chosen to sponsor MACA. I would like to remind you that an agency member can have a free vendor both at the conferences, and can run you advertisement for employment as well.

Our conference was attended by 134 professionals who appeared to have a very good time, learning and sharing with each other. From the information forwarded to me, it sounds like we had the best attended banquet we have had in a long time. The spring conference is coming together very well and will be looking at new topics and techniques. The conference committee reports the conference is ready for April 27 through 29, 2012, at the Inn of the Grand Glaze in beautiful Lake Ozark, MO. Please check our web site for conference information.

I can't say enough about each and every one of you who chose to attend our conferences. You help make MACA conferences among the best. It is through the interaction with each other, the passion for our profession along with the insightfulness and caring for those who suffer from addictions that you all bring the hope, health and recovery to so many in need. I am very proud to be a member of our organization, and extremely proud to be serving as your president. You as a member along with the attendees and potential members all help make MACA the successful organization it is, and your suggestions for change or improvement are always welcome. This is our election year and it appears we have several new and exciting individuals running for office. As a member, please let your voice be heard in this election by completing your ballots and getting them sent in by the November 20, 2011 deadline. No ballots received after the November 20 will be accepted or counted.

I do regret not being able to attend the fall conference, but I was blessed with a healthy baby granddaughter, Elliana. My daughter's sixteenth birthday went off not quite as planned by her becoming an aunt again, but five days later, she did get to take and pass her driver's test with flying colors. She is loose and on the roads, so beware!

Once again, I want to thank all of you for the honor and privilege you have bestowed upon me for the past four years to serve as your president.

I wish you all a very happy holiday season. I hope you all can spend the time with your families and friends during the holidays. I hope to see each and every one of you in April at the conference.

Thank You all

Lavern Blackorby BA, CRAADC, SQP-R ICAADC, MACA President

From the MACA Office By Ronnie Beaver, MACA Executive Secretary

Greetings and I hope everyone had a Great Summer. I was very happy to see so many old and new friends at the MACA 2011 Fall conference. We had a great turnout with 134 participants and 12 vendors/sponsors. We welcomed 14 new and returning members in October. Each conference for the past 4 years has seen an increase in participants. You all should have received your CEU certificates by now. If not, contact me at the number below. Thanks to all for their participation and hard work. Each conference, phone calls and e-mails reminds me of why I have been a MACA member for over 22 years.

You can find membership and conference information on our web site. As you check membership and conference information, please take some time to review our entire site. As you will see, the site has been updated and looks great.

Also, current members, don't forget with each new individual member you recruit (up to 5) you get $25 off your Fall 2011 conference registration.

We are having elections for Board members and officers in November. You should be getting the ballots mailed to you by the end of October. The MACA board of directors works very hard to provide our membership with great benefits and conferences. Ballots MUST be returned to the MACA office NO LATER THAN November 20th. Any ballots received after that date will not be counted.

I hope to see you at our Spring 2012 conference. It will be April 27 - 29, at the Inn at Grand Glaze, Lake Ozark, MO.

MACA contact information is: Ronnie Beaver, Executive Secretary, 816-232-3411. E-Mail; maca@socket.net, and web site; www.missouriaddictioncounselors.org

Thanks again for another great MACA year

Trauma-Informed Care By Mark Stringer & Heidi DiBiaso, Dept of Mental Health

Most people seeking substance abuse treatment and mental health services have experienced some form of abuse, neglect, or other traumatic event during their lifetimes. Trauma can cause serious problems, affecting a person's physical health, mental health, and self-esteem. While treatment for trauma-related mental health and substance abuse problems has proven to be effective, trauma-specific interventions are not enough.

Trauma-informed care focuses on providing services in a safe, supportive, and culturally sensitive environment using evidence-based practices. Trauma-informed systems bring the values of safety, healing, and recovery. It requires training of all staff members - from the top down - to make sure these values are woven into daily practice, which includes policies, procedures, and service delivery. The involvement of those receiving services is important in the development, delivery, and evaluation of services. When an agency can demonstrate that it incorporates these values into every aspect of care, then it is considered to have a Trauma-Informed Culture.

For additional information or resources on trauma-informed care, please contact Shannon Einspahr, MSW, LCSW at the Division of Alcohol and Drug Abuse, 573-751-8113, or shannon.einspahr@dmh.mo.gov.

MACA will explore and pursue ideas and principals which advance the Professional recognition of Addiction Counselors in Missouri.

Did You Know.....

MACA is the only Professional Membership Association in Missouri for Addiction Counselors and other Professionals in the Addictions field.

MACA was organized in 1971 as the Missouri Association of Alcohol Counselors to provide fellowship and support for persons professionally employed in alcoholism counseling. The role and mission of MACA expanded through the years to include persons providing professional counseling for alcohol, drug, and other addictive behaviors, thus necessitating a name change to the Missouri Association of Substance Abuse Counselors. In 1992, MASAC Membership and NAADAC (National Association of Alcohol and Drug Abuse Counselors) St. Louis Chapter agreed to combine and form one professional association in Missouri. MASAC then became Missouri Addiction Counselors Association.

In 2008 MACA discontinued its affiliation with NAADAC in order to focus resources on the needs of State membership.
